- AFIN definition of Service Retail includes single-tenant retail properties leased to tenants in the retail banking, restaurant, grocery, pharmacy, gas/convenience, fitness, and auto services sectors.
- Represents percentage of square footage of which the tenant has taken possession divided by the respective total rentable square feet as of March 31, 2019.
- Based on annualized straight-line rent as of March 31, 2019.
- Contractual rent increases include fixed percent or actual increases, or CPI-indexed increases.
- Investment Grade Rating includes both actual investment grade ratings of the tenant or implied investment grade. Implied investment grade includes ratings of tenant parent (regardless of whether or not the parent has guaranteed the tenant's obligation under the lease) or lease guarantor. Implied investment grade ratings are determined using a proprietary Moody's analytical tool, which compares the risk metrics of the non-rated company to those of a company with an actual rating. Ratings information is as of April 16, 2019. AFIN's top 10 tenants are 48% actual investment grade rated and 29% implied investment grade.
- Represents total debt less cash and cash equivalents divided by total assets plus accumulated depreciation and amortization as of March 31, 2019.
- Executed Occupancy includes occupancy as of March 31, 2019 as defined above as well as all leases executed by both parties as of March 31, 2019 that have yet to take possession as of such date.
- The remaining acquisitions in the pipeline are currently under definitive purchase and sale agreements. These acquisitions are subject to conditions and there can be no assurance they will be completed on their current terms, or at all.

- 1 Includes pipeline as of April 15, 2019. PSAs are subject to conditions and LOIs are non-binding. There can be no assurance these pipeline acquisitions will be completed on their current terms, or at all.
- 2 Cash cap rate is a rate of return on a real estate investment property based on the expected, annualized cash rental income during the first year of ownership that the property will generate under its existing lease. Cash cap rate is calculated by dividing the annualized cash rental income the property will generate (before debt service and depreciation and after fixed costs and variable costs) and the purchase price of the property. The weighted-average cash cap rate is based upon square feet.
- 3 Weighted average capitalization rate is a rate of return on a real estate investment property based on the expected, annualized straight-lined rental income that the property will generate under its existing lease during its first year of ownership. Weighted average capitalization rate is calculated by dividing the annualized straight-lined rental income the property will generate (before debt service and depreciation and after fixed costs and variable costs) and the purchase price of the property. The weighted-average capitalization rate is based upon square feet.
- 4 Includes (i) all leases executed by both parties as of April 15, 2019, but after March 31, 2019, and (ii) all leases under negotiation with an executed letter of intent by both parties as of April 15, 2019. There can be no assurance that the executed letters of intent, which are not binding, will become executed leases that commence on the same terms, or at all.
- 5 Weighted average lease term remaining based on disposition date for dispositions and remaining lease term as of March 31, 2019 for acquisitions.
- 6 Percentage based on total rentable square feet in AFIN's portfolio as of March 31, 2019.
- 7 Subsequent to March 31, 2019, and through April 15, 2019, we sold two properties with an aggregate contract sales price of approximately $45.2 million.
